PRAYING THIS WEEK

Israel has been much in the news recently, and there is a lot of division about matters in the Middle East. The question inevitably comes up as to how we should pray for this situation?

- Above all things, and before all things, we should be praying for the gospel to be preached and heard by Jews, Arabs, and all people in Israel (Rom 10:1–17). Over 65% of Israelis claim to be atheist or irreligious, and that includes almost all of those who claim to be Jewish.
- Pray for the protection of the innocent and justice for the wicked (Jer 22:3). There are people in both categories on both sides of the current conflict. The innocent are, unfortunately, often caught in the violence of war.
- Petition the Lord to guide the leaders of both sides to peace (Matt 5:43–48, Rom 13:1–7). Pray for even the leaders of Hamas? YES, just as Paul prayed for the Roman emperors and Jesus prayed for those who crucified him.
- Finally, rejoice in the Lord that despite the hate that fills the world, He is a God of peace and grace (Phil 4:8–9). We are called to be peacemakers (Matt 5:9).
